

Near Miss Report Communication

A Near Miss is an unplanned event that has the potential to cause, but does not actually result in human injury, equipment or environmental damage; or an interruption to normal operations

As a worker on site your ability to recognise and report a Near Miss is crucial in supporting a safe working environment for your and your colleagues.

Possible causes of a Near Miss could be:

- Human behaviour: i.e. not complying with site processes, not operating equipment correctly, not wearing correct PPE.
- Equipment not being checked properly prior to working on it
- Site conditions: i.e. the condition of the haul roads, weather impact

Why Near Miss reporting is important:

- Identifies potential harm
- Enables action to be taken to support site safety and risk management

If you identify a Near Miss contact the Mando Solutions office on 01291 435440 as soon as you are able to do so, by doing this we can support appropriate action and improvement.
